

TINDER'S YEAR IN SWIPE™

Situationships, Shared Values and Social Issues Were the Top Green Flags for a New Generation of Daters That Are Done Wasting Their Time

LONDON - November 28, 2022 — Let's be real, 2021 wasn't the return to IRL we thought it would be - a mask was still your must-have accessory and you sought out vaccination appointments like concert tickets. The start of 2022, however, brought new excitement for getting back 'out there' with our collective need to make up for lost time during quarantine. Social activities like travel and live events rebounded in record fashion, and dating was no exception. Millions of young adults who started their dating lives in lockdown, showed they were definitely out and ready to mingle IRL, and unlike previous generations, they were dating on their terms and were done playing games.

With 2022 drawing to a close, Tinder's Year in Swipe shares the top flirt flexes of the year. From new relationship labels and stances on social issues, to sober dating trends and the hot new emojis popping up in the chat, here's the state of the date: View the Report Here.
